HONGBONG, AUGUST STH. 1907.

WE have a great respect for the homely aphorism, "least said, soonest mended." But there are cases in which amendment can only be brought about by saying a great deal, saying it loudly or emphatically, and saying it often. Of such we consider are the relations of the Hongkong Observatory with its neighbours. That it has been and is an unpleasant duty, and one that has been somewhat misunderstood, is a regrettable circumstance, but it cannot be a deterrent. We published on July 24th a despatch from the Astronomer-Royal at Greenwich, commenting on the evidence of the Typhoon Enquiry as submitted to him. That despatch and its conclusions, so far as the major points raised by the Daily Press are concerned, seemed to us quite beside the mark, almost irrelevant. Anticipating was "travelling W.N.W." expert comment from Manila or Shapghai, we decided to postpone any reference to it. We have now before us a copy of the North China Daily News for August 1st, containing a letter from the Director of the Sicawei Observatory. The asseverations of the Hongkong officials at the enquiry, that S. E. of Ishigakijima at a distance still untheir relations with their confreres at Manila and Shanghai were "most cordial," seemed to us to be decidedly disingenuous, and we still think so. That there should be some disingenuity in the opening terms of Mr. Free's letter indicates that the cordinlity is before leaving Newchwang, affirmed that he had about equal on both sides. Our contention has all along been that the most cordial consequently cannot admit completely the relations are essential in the public interest. We have never suggested that any persons Hongkong was threatened."

letter is dated July 29th, and begins :-

the opinion of the director of the Astronomical Observatory at Greenwich (London) on the Hongkong typhoon of September 18, 1976. am glad to see that the Observatory of the British Colony is there discharged from blame. There is no profit in casting doubt on the value of institutions giving warnings to sailors; everyone can make a mistake, every man may be taken by surprise, but we want the confidence of captains in order to give them assistance. I feel therefore greatly satisfied at the conclusion of the Astronomer Royal, as it will stop excuerate here the Hongkong Observatory of further inquiries on the question. You may the implicit accusation that could result thence have noticed. Mr. Editor, that from the begin- in some minds; we never thought of sending ning we have strictly limited ourselves to the that warning to Hongkong. The Telegraph scientific description of that storm; we shall not Companies are already overburdened with depart from that behaviour, but there are meteorological telegrams, which they kindly three points in the first paragraph of Sir transmit free of charge, and we do not venture W. H. M. Christie's letter, in which Sicawei is concerned, and it seems impossible to let them pass without a short explanation.

We have commented on the transparent disingenuity - almost amounting to irony -of the passage which ends by expressing satisfaction at the prospect of further inquiries being stopped. It strikes us as a bit of gentlemanly humbug. We hope that Sir FREDERICK LUCARD will inquire about the alleged cordiality, and do something to make it more real. Whether the typhoon notified by Shanghai was identical with the one that hit Hongkong is a question for this institution, of which I have care. I am experts to argue over. We do not presume to have an opinion. The letter goes on :

lst. -The Astronomer Royal writes: "The typhoon of which warning was given by the Director of Sicawei Observatory on September 15, 1906, was apparently not the one which struck Hongkong on the 18th." Although the assertion is not absolute, I believe I must state inquiry we would care to see would be a once more that these typhoons are one and the same storm. A splitting of the cyclone in two may have taken place near the South end of Formesa, as we all know it often happens; but the narrow whirl of the 18th existed certainly in the perturbation signalled on the 15th S.E. of the great island and of the Group Meiaco Sima. This fact, already stated in the excellent pamphlet of the Director of the Philippine Weather Bureau will receive elsewhere due consideration. For the present be it enough to recall in mind the following facts:

11.30 a.m. and again at 5 p.m., on the Pacific, some where to the S.E. of Ishigakijima, A centre, in every case reported as violent, narrow. with identical characteristics, passes on the same. day at 2,30 p.m. at a short distance north of the island Sto. Domingo de Basco (Long. 121 deg. 59', Lat. 20 deg. 28',) the same day at 5 p.m., at a longer distance, north of Aparri_(Long. 121 deg. 34', Lat. 18 deg. 22'), on the 16th is not a single barrister in the about 1 a.m. it joins the U.S.N. transport being absent on holiday. Cassar 82 miles W. of the Batan islands (Long. 120 deg. 28', Lat 20 deg. 30'), the same day at 4 p.m. it is found at a distance estimated 240 miles N.N.E. of the s.s. Zafiro viz., approximately by Long. 118 deg. Lat. 22 deg.; during the night of the 17th the French mail steamer Occanien meets with the storm, which passes at a distance in the South (South of Breaker St.). viz., about Long. 116 deg. 30', Lat. 22 deg. 10' between 0 and la.m. of the 18th; on the 18th, 3.45 a.m., the British steamer Kweichow, E.S.E. of Pedro-Blanco (Long. 115 deg. 30, Lat. 22 deg. 10'), reports having experienced a furi us tuphoon, as did the Oceanien, as did the Caesar. At Hongkong the minimum took place at 10 a.m. of the very same day. Now let us mark on a chart the different positions of this very violent storm during these three days; every man having any experience of things in the Far East will be driven to the following alternative: either the Hongkong typhoon was the one signalled by Sicawei on the 15th, which passed, and was well observed successively over seven stations with a speed quite normal at this latitude, or we are invited to give birth and death in turn to seven successive violent typhoons within three days, on the same line and track; for the reasons to disconnect the Hongkorg typhoon from the centre signalled on the 15th would apply to the Kweichow typhoon, at the doors of the Colony, to the Oceanien typhoon, the Zafiro typhoon, the Caesar typhoon, etc., which conclusion it was hard to admit, 2nd .- "Had it (the typhoon) proved identical, the Sicawei forecast gave ne indication that Hongkong was threatened."

. It seems quite clear that the eminent astronomer has not received information of all the warnings cabled from here; from tness, and these only, deductions can be arrived at and not from opinions expressed in the papers. On September 15,11.30 a.m. a first signal was sent to the effect that "a typhoon was S.E. of the Meiaco Sima group, direction unknown;" did not threaten any particular spot. But at 5.30 p.m. new information was cabled to all the semaphores that the typhoon previously reported

There is no question here of our subjective opinion then, nor of what we could think at Shanghai or print in the papers; in fact we did not know for sure at the time that Hongkong was more in danger than Swatow or Amoy. But we are of opinion that objectively a chart and marking the centre on a line to the known, but perhaps great, and from thence drawing a track towards the W. N. W., would have thought the information interesting for himself, and even important for the harbour of Hongkong, without concluding as yet that the centre would strike the anchorage. The proof is that a Captain arriving at Hongkoug shortly come to the conclusion that the southern ports were menaced; Hongkong not excluded. We decision of the Astronomer Royal, that the Sicawei forecast "gave no indication that should be held responsible or blameworthy | Our readers may digest the preceding for the sad results of the September argument for themselves. As we have said, typhoon; but we do suggest that the it is not for us to dwell on such a point. Government should take any and all steps The next section of the letter, however, possible to secure whole hearted co-operation brings us back to the extraordinary misbetween all the weather observatories in the understandings that have been possible in Far East. No one believes that such co- connection with the incident, even the operation exists. Part of the letter about Astronomer-Royal having been grotesquely to be quoted confirms our opinion that misled. There is a plain implication that Hongkong has been pursuing a dangerous the Hongkong Observatory deliberately policy of independence, which opinion, as we ignored a specific warning. This was, of pointed out at the time, was proved correct | course, never suggested locally What we by the evidence at the enquiry. If we are say is that their policy is to refuse all wrong in believing such whole hearted warnings from other observatories, and it co-operation to be desirable, we are wrong in was so said in evidence at the enquiry, all points, and have no more to say. The evidence that cannot be overlooked, as it was the evidence of the officials themselves. Sir,-I have read in your number of to-day They did not want deduction, but figures only; the wires were already overburdened, and so on. Mr. Froc's letter confides: 3rd .- 'The contention that the warning was given and ignored falls to the ground." We believe that some people could misunderstand these concluding words and think that in fact this peculiar warning had been sent to Hongkong and actually refused or ignored there. Probably the situation is not plainly to put upon their cables useless messages. It is well known that Hongkong refuses to receive any warning, and that they even obtained from the American Government an official prohibition to the Director of the Philippine Weather Bureau of sending any typhoon warnings to the coast of China (an order soon cancelled owning to the universal protest of public opinion). We totally re rain from discussing that question now; we have only to say that on that date of the 18th (or 15th) no warning was ignored, becarse none was sent; and none was sent because we knew that it would not have been received.

upon your valuable columns. I thought the explanation was necessary for the navigators, the welfare of whom is ede of the chief aims of etc., (signed) L. Proc, S.J., Director, ricawei Observatory.

It was stated at the enquiry, by the Hongkong Observatory officials, that relatious with all professional neighbours were most cordial. The only further plain question put to the Observatory director? of Manila and Shanghai, 'Can your relations with the Hongkong Observatory be truthfully described as most cordial?" The two answers to that question might then show us just where we are in the matter. At present, the feeling is that we are still in danger, notwithstanding the A signal announces a typhoon on the 15th at | findings of the local commission and of the Greenwich astronomer.

On July 28th at a Chinese Theatre in Singapore there was an interesting boxing contest between Chin Hoon Seck a wellknown Chinese expert, and a European named Fischer. Writing of the accounts given of their German experiences by the editors who were recently in Berlin, an Englishman, long resident in Germany, and knowing its life intimately, says: The fact that almost every item the Eng. lish visitors dwell upon they admit came upon them as a surprise certainly points to great ignorance on their part regarding the vital features of so important a country as Germany, In my humble opinion this shows that the English newspaper correspondents residing abroad do not fulfil the duties that they are supposed to perform-which should be to enlighten the English public as regards the conditions prevailing in the country they reside in, in preference to their usual task of conveying political tittle-tattle. It seems to me that the English editors who went to Germany communicated more valuable information to the English public than the correspondents of the whole of the London Press have done during the last ton years.

In the current number of Nature a serious attack is made upon our unscientific adminis. tration, particularly in India, by Professor Ronald Ross, the distinguished enemy of malaris. Professor Ross has on several recent occasions criticised the lack of science displayed by the Indian authorities in their crusade against the plague, says the Manchester Guardian, which is still killing the natives of India at the rate of 75,000 a week, and which accounts for some part of the discontent with English rule of which we now hear. He Excuse me for having trespassed so much returns to the charge at the request of the editor of Nature-who has ling been urging the fuller use of scientific resources by Britis h administrators-with a general indictment of the slackness which hampers the work of the Indian Medical Service to this day, as it did when he entered that service twenty-six years ago. He gives many instances of what he calls the brainless character of much of the administration.

AN OLD, OLD STORY.

THE CONFIDENCE MAN AND THE GULLIBLE ANAH. . Notwithstanding the many exposures of the

banknote trick in Hongkong, and notwithstanding the many simple amahe who have fallen victims to the wiles of the "confidence" man, still there are others to follow in the steps of those who have proved by experience that he is not a benefactor to mankind. Like other rogues, he is auxious to make money quickly, and the ways and means by which his ends are accomplished do not bother him in the least. So that when he approaches an amah, with as little's use as she has money, shows her a roll of banknotes which he says he found, and tells her that half the amount he has shall be hers if she will consent to change them, she immediately falls into the trap Such an event happened on Tuesday when two natives accosted an amab in Garden Road. One of them showed her what appeared to be several hundred bank notes. which he said he had picked up, and offered her half the amount if she would go to a money changer's in Queen's Road and get change. This appeared to her the chance of a lifetime, and she lost no time in offering to undertake the commission. "Very well," said the "confidence" man, "Since you are willing, come to aquiet place where I can hand over the money." The trie found such a spot in the public gardens, a parcel which was said to contain the notes was handed to the amab, and she left on her mission. "Stay"; said the "confidence" man before she had gone many yards, "We don't know you, so it would be as well if you left something behind as security." The amah left bangles, earrings and other jewellery to the value of $70, and as she was starting on her errand she was advised not to open her parcel until she got in the movey changer's shop. On arrival there she opened the " valuable" parcel and fessted her eyes on-not greenbacks-but blank paper. Great was her consternation, and greater her harry to the Central Police Station, where she reported the occurrence to Inspector Warnock. Detectives were immediately put on the track, and one of the men was found on Tuesday evening on a Canton Liner Steamer. He was charged before Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz at the Police Court yesterday, admitted the theft, and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and six hours' stocks,

"CARBOLACENE" AND THE PUBLIC BEALTH COMMISSION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

Sik,-In Paragraph No. 148 of the report of the Public Health Commission; and under the heading "Disinfecting and General Cleansing it is stated that "it would be useless to submit any Disinfectant to Chemical Analysis if it would not mix with water," and further, that "Carbolacene" did not mix well with water and therefore stood condemned as a Disinfectant." AMERICA AND THE PHILIPPINES.

Democracy is keen on liberty-theoretically American democracy says the Filipines ought to be free to vote so long as they vote right. So we gather from the following despatch in the Manila Cablenews :-

Washington, August 1 .- The results of the election for delegates to the first Philippine Assembly has created consternation in the United States, Many newspapers comment on the subject and point out the ignorance of the Filipinos as shown by their choice of legislators. The Washington Post says the election shows the necessity of radical changes in the government here, and the ruling of the natives by better methods, and ones calculated to produce different results than those obtained in the election. A number of eminent Congressmen throughout the country have been interviewed on the subject and state their belief that recommendations will be made to the next Congress for a ch nging of the status of the islands. The election of Gomez especially has embittered some of the best friends of the Filipines. His character is wellknown throughout the United States and the fact that Manila, the leading city of the archipelage, chose him for its representative, has estranged many who have been the atrongest supporters of anti-imperia-

It is believed that Gomez will not be permitted to take his sent under any conditions if elected to Congress. If the higher court does not find him guilty it is likely that the government will impeach him as unfit to sit in Manile.

editorials state that a fatal mistaks was made in the election of Gomez, and that the incapacity of the Filipinos for self government is exibited

e aracter. The Washington authorities are dreadfully disappointed in the outcome of the election. While Secretary of War Taft refuses to be quoted on the matter, it is known that among his friends he deplores the putting in office of men of the type elected. The cause of self government has lost tremendously by the election.

GARDEN PARTY AT MOUNTAIN LODGE.

Blue skies and brilliant sunshine, the heat tempered by cool breezes, made the lawns of Mountain Lodge a very pleasant rendezvous yesterday afternoon, Apparently Sir Frederick and Lady Lugard's guests were entirely of this opinion, for the gay crowd that had wended its way up the steep slope on foot and in chairs, from 4 o'clock until six, seemed in no hurry to take its departure, but lingered in a very pleasant and informal fashion.

At the foot of the slope leading to the smaller lawn the Governor and Lady Lugard, with Captain Taylor and Miss Brackenburg in attendance, received their guests, Lady Lugard wearing a gown of white silk, embroidered with gold, and a large picture hat trimmed with white ostrich feathers, while His Excellency was attired in gray frock coat and hat.

The presentation of the visitors was made by the A.D.C., Captain Taylor, and the ce remony of introduction being over the guests. passed on to the lawns. Here a brilliant scene was presented. The light dresses of the ladies-and white was the prevailing colour -made bright spots against the background of velvet lawns and rugged hillside, while an occasional uniform, gorgeous with gold lace and many orders, caught the sunlight Tea tables, dotted about the grounds, were well patro nised, while scarlet gipsy tents had been erected that the more man might find refreshment after the hot climb, 'for alsa! the supply of chairs at the Peak Tramway Station was speedily exhausted and most of the members of the sterner sex had to walk the "steep road to Mountain Lodge. During the afternoon the Band of the 3rd Middlesex Regiment played selections and the breeze caught the sounds carrying them away over the hills.

The grounds of Mount in Lodge lend them. elves peculiarly to picturesque effects, and certainly yesterday afternoon's function proved no exception to this rule. Was it becau e of the charming welcome of Ludy Lugard or was it the contrast with last week's inclement. weather that the grass seemed greener and the sea and sky more blue than usual? At any rate an air of unwonted informality and socia bility distinguished yesterday's proceedings.

About six o'clock the incoming stream ceased declining, and the stream of chairs and padegates. The lawns were once more discreted except for the jackdaw who returned to his We shall make every effort to have these haunt, whence he had been driven in alarm at the first sign of such unusual happenings. UNITED STATES AND GERMANY.

NEW YORK IMAGINATIONS.

Under the heading "Reported Overtures from the German Emperor" the New York Sun discusses a subject which is now occupying much space in the newspapers and receiving the attention of public mon, namely, the assistance alleged to have been offered to the United States by the German Emperor in the event of a conflict in the Far East. Referring to the reports that the Emperor believes the time propitious for effecting a cordial understanding with the United States, and that overtures to that end have been made to the Washington Government, the Sun says number of newspapers in the country in that it does not understand that Germany proposes a formal Treaty similar to that by which Great Britain and Japan guarantee their strikingly in their selection of a man of his respective possessions in the Far East, but that her object is to convince the American people that, while Great Britain showed herself indifferent at least to American interests in premises there-were no goods to levy upon. It concluding a Treaty with Japan, Germany will not only refrain from pursuing a similar course, but would willingly give the United States any assistance it might desire in the event of a war in the Pacific, which might threaten American territories there.

CROWN AGENTS AGAIN!

The Times of Malaya has another lively fling at the Crown Agents system, and produces further evidence of the delay and trouble it involves in matters of the simplest departmental supply. It says :--

Some little time ago we called attention in our columns to the disgrareful state of the all up to date and by which the travelling public uniforms of the telegraph boys, who should have | oni y the highest comfort combined with safety. The space between decks to buy all stores through the Crown Agents, being higher has enabled the builders to make the Master Tailor at Taiping was in the habit of buying the necessary khaki cloth loftier a great boon to the public travelling on credit from Singapore or Penang firms, and paying for it when he obtained his vote. In this way he was able to furnish the uniforms at the proper time, made of the best material, and at a reasonable cost. Yet the powers-thatbe could not let well alone, but compelled him to indent upon the Crown Agents for the requisite materials. Now we see the result in uniforms in a disgraceful state of disrepair, and, what is far worse, dissatisfaction on the part of the men who should have received them seven months ago, but did not.

matter, namely, the Septic Tank, in which the baleful influence of the Crown Agents is again apparent to the seeing eye. The Report states : "It has been proved to be too small for the sewage of Ipoh, and a system of filtration is a pressing necessity. ... These mistakes create an exasperating delay, for everything has to be procured from home, and sometimes it arrives broken or incomplete." To this might have been added, with perfect truth, that sometimes altogether the wrong material is sent. Recenty, egain, many would-be users of the telephone in Kinta have been unable to obtain the instruments, as the Crown Agents had not seen fit to supply the new ones indented for many months before. But such instances may be multiplied by the score. Some time ago the writer had a conversation with a member of the Perak Service, whose department required large quantities of iron sundries such as could be supplied, and used to be supplied, by firms in the S. S. or F. M. S. "Formerly," he said "if anything was wanted in a hurry-and such cases must occur-I could get it from Ipoh or or Penang in a couple of days, or, failing that, from Singapore in about a week. If a mislake occurred in executing the order, the error could by rectified in an equal time. must indent upon the Crown Agents, who may keep me waiting for anything up to fifteen months; and then, if a mistake has been made, where am I? Besides, the local firms can supply me as cheaply, or even more cheaply. than the Crown Agents." Comment would

Is is not iniquitous that F.M.S. and S.S. firms, who are assisting in the development of the country's prosperity, should be passed over in favour of the Crown Agents, on whose behalf not one single thing can be said in the cases quoted above? We have spoken of this precions Department as an anachronism: it is worse, it is a disgrace to the country which continues it in being. This is the Department which recently refused to lay a statement of accounts before Parliament, and from facts relating to their curious "business" methods (save the mark !) known personally to the writer, it is not to be wondered at that they do not care to have their transactions laid upon army of Irspectors, Deputy Inspectors, Assistant Inspectors, Deputy-Assistant Inspectors, Sub-Inspectors and so on, through all the grades and sub divisions of the office which can possibly be invented. In many instances—and this is a fact which cannot be controverted—this "inspection" consists of the mere signing of the papers relating to the goods, while the hard-worked gentleman who signs the papers declaring that he has inspected and passed the stuff has not so much as given it a casual glance. But the charge for this inspection is added to the cost of the goods. Many of our readers will recollect the attack launched at the Crown Agents by Lord Portsmouth in the Upper House, in connection with the disgraceful jobbery of the Gold Coast Government Railway, when, with a fine soorn of consequences, he characterised the whole business as a "family party" and boldly gave the names of those chiefly involved. But they refused to be drawn. No libel actions followed the Crown Agents, like Brer Rabbit, "lay low and said nuffin," preferring to let the statements go unchallenged rather than risk publicity, which they dared not face.

Doubtless there was a day when this Department was a necessity to us as to all Crown Colonies, but that day has long gone by, bingspore, l'enang, Ipoh and Kuala Lumpur possess firms of repute who can supply everything that is required; who can supply it, far more rapidly, more satisfactorily, and at a chesper rate, than the Crown Agents: yet these like Lazarus, must be content with the crumbs that fall from the table of D'ves, the insignificant crumbs which the over-fed Crown Agents cannot take the trouble to swallow. How much longer are our merchants to suffer under this iniquitous and antiquated system? Surely they deserve something better than their present treatment! But not only do our merchants suffer - the whole community suffers with them the system which compels us to buy in the dearest market, and under all sorts of additional drawbacks, amounts to taxing the country in order to support a Department that is not only useless but highly detrimental to a country which is out of leading strings. Must a man be compelled, for the terms of his natural life, to pay a salary to the hireling that tended him in his babybood? We trow not. It should be the duty of all who have a voice in the government of Malaya, from Penang to Singapore, never to rest until this galling abuse is swept out of existence and relegated to 'the limbo of things forgotten'. Delenda est Carthago!

The Liverpool magistrates granted orders for the commitment of five Chinese laundry | en for non-payment of poor rates It was stated that a distraint had been issued, but on visiting the was also said there was a combination among Chinese in the city to resist the payment of rates, as they claim they get no tenefit, preferring to support their own poor rather than allow them to enter English workhouses.

FUNNELS AND FLAGS.

N. D. L. STEAMBRE.

From year to year the freight and pass nger traffic on the Imperial German Mail boat (Norddeutscher Lloyd) has shown a considerable increase, which is mainly due to the constant efforts of the Company to improve the service to the Far East by running modern steamers, the cabins, dining and drawing rooms much in the Tropics. In every respect they approach the "Prinz Eitel Friedrich" and "Prinz Ludwig," boats which are such favorites. Special features are the arrangements in the second class, all cabins are large and bright. The poop is consideraby larger and consequently there is available for second of as passengers larger promenide deck than is usually the case. " hese new steamers of the "Feldherrn" class together with the tried boats "Prinz Heinrich", "Prinz Regent Luitpold", "Prinz Eitel Friedrich," "Prinz Ludwig" and especially "Prinzess Alice" make up a very In the able and comprehensive Report of our Resident, which reviews the affairs of Perak in fine fleet, worthy of the Norddentscher Lloy chatting in groups and over the tea tables general, and Ipoh in particular, for the year who from the very start have always made 1906, we find a paragraph dealing with a local every effort for the care and comfort of the passengers travelling in the Far East. SHIPOWNERS PROFITS.

Half-yearly reviews of the shipping business ake note, quite properly, of the fact that shipowners are about the only people who are not making money out of the improvement i oversea trade. There are various causes for this. One is that in the last two years there has been much overbuilding. To cap this came the new loading regulations, adding, at the stroke of the pen, so many hundred thousand tons to the cargo-carrying capacity of British shipping. Another contributing cause is alleged to be the lack of cohesion among shipowners. They cut and they underent, and then grumble at the lack of profits. Nevertheless, there are bright spots. "Fortunately," say Messrs. H. E. Moss and Co., in their review, " large British and Continental passenger and cargo lines, notably those engaged in the American and Pacific trades, have proved the exception, and their resources have been taxed to the utmost to cop with their ever-increasing business, as their last balance sheets show." Tramp steamers -the bosts which go snywhere and carry anything—are by no me as so fortunate. With certain limited exceptions, the outlook for this class of ship shows little or no improvement, and low freights are accompanied by a serious increase in working expenses. Coal is very dear, the new Merchant Shipping Act, involves additional outlay in stores, and the Compensation Act is one more burden on the beck. All these circumstances, together with the increasing cost of labour, tell unfavourably. Besides there is the ever-increasing competition of

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT. There is considerable diversity of opinion as to what the inclusion of seamen in the Workmen's Compensation Act will cost shipowners. The truth is that nobody can tell with any approach to precision until the measure has been in operation for some considerable time. It is generally assumed, however, that the expense entailed will be considerably less than was at one time anticipated. The risk obviously be the greater in of sailing ships, and there may an inducement to man these to the light of day. It is rotten with nepotism; foreigners to an even greater extent than at it apparently exists for the sole purpose of present, on the off chance that such men may have no dependents. The least risk will obtain in the first-class liners, for there, although the hands will probably be Englishmen with families, the chances of disaster are comparatively remote. If catastrophe does come, however, the compensation payments will be heavy. Looking at it all round, the effect of the new legislation may be to deal the death-blow at the long-voyage sailing ship under the British flag. It numbers were already fast diminishing every year. That malingering on the part of the seaman may be encouraged by the Workmen's Compensation Act is quite a possibility. Apropos of remedia a shipowner has been giving his experience for the benefit of his fellows. He says that, other resources having failed, a conference was held in the cabin adjoining that of the malingerer, and it was determined, in eloquent tones, by way of last resort, to amputate a particular limb at a partic lar hour. The patient, as was intended, overheard the conversation, and at the appointed hour was found in the foretop with four pairs of trousers on, and a belaying-pin in his hand. This can scarcely be called a cure by hypnotic suggestion, but it was at least as affective. DIBECT TEA SAILING. Are we to witness a revival, in modern form, of the old time races between China tea-shippers The P. and O. Company are, for the first time for many years, sending a ship direct from Hankow to London, with a cargo largely consisting of choice China tess, to meet the growing demand in this country. HOLIDAY TRAFFIC. The Austrian-Lloyd, of Trieste, have issued an illustrated handbook respecting their pleasure cruises for the balf-year. The Thalia, a steam yacht of 3,515 tons register, is told off for Boardinavian waters, her first departure being frem Bremerhaven and her second from Kiel. Then she turns southward, as the Norway season | our preceptors. closes, and there is a trip from Bremerhaven to Trieste. For the rest of the year the boat is running from Trieste to various beauty spots in Southern Europe and Northern Africa, and a feature is made of a trip which enables Christmas to be spent at ses.

INSURING BIG STEAMERS. The Times correspondent on the London Marine Insurance market says :- When stea- meas a of developing the physical and moral grit mers of the size and power of the two of the nation Cuparders Mauretania and Lusitania are rut into the water they raise many more problems and difficulties than those which are anticipated. They are so big that very few ports or docks can take them, and they are so valuable that insurance market can with difficulty insure them. Whether they will ever be fully insured may be combled, but that this market and other markets will be very full of them is certain. On may, perhaps, express sympathy with the brokers who had the unprecedented task of placing such insur ances. The Lu-itanis, which is to go on ber trials and then proceed to the Mersey to be delivered, is covered under builders' insurances

MARK TWAIN'S CONFESSION.

Americans in London gathered together in large numbers under the auspices of the American Fociety on July 4th at the Hotel Cecil for the an uni celebration of Independence Day. The Chair was occupied by Mr. R. Newton Crane, who was supported amongst others by the American Ambassador, Mark Twain, Sin Robert B. Finlay, Mr. Justice Oliver Wendell, Holmer, Lord Justice Kennedy, Field Marsha Sir Evelyn Wood, and Sir Hiram S. Maxim. After the toasts of the King and the President of the United States, the American Ambassador, replying to the toast of his health, and in proposing "The Pay we celebrate," expressed the opinion that in the phrase of Mr. John Hay, a predecessor of his, " the modest, sby, retiring violet" was becoming more and more their national emblem. There was a time when they used to brag, but they did not need to now. (Laughter and cheers.) Mark Twain supported the toast in a humorous speech, beginning with a reference to the stolen Ascot Cup. He said he had tried to convince people that he did not take the cup, but had failed, so he might as well confess that he did take it, and be done with it. (Laughter.) Nor did be think it fair when England had been trying to take a cup of theirs for forty years, to make so much trouble when he tried to go into the business. (Laughter.) Continuing, Mark Twain said: Our Ambassador has spoken of the fourth of July, and the noise it makes. We have a double fourth of July in America. We honour it all through the daylight hours, and when the night comes we dishonour it. (Laughter.) Just at this hour the pandemonium would be about to begin. More than the noise there would be people crippled and killed all through the permission which we give to irresponsible boys to play with fire-arms and fire crackers. Really we destroy more proparty on the night of the fourth of July than the whole of the United States was worth 125 years ago, and to thousands it is turned into a day of mourning.

I have suffered in that way myself. I had an uncle in Chic go -as good an uncle as ever I had, and I have had a lot of them. (Laughter.) He opened his mouth to express his patriotism, and a rocket went down his throat. (Laughter.) And before that man could ask for a drink of water to quench the thing it had scattered him all over the fortyfive states. (Laughter.) Really this is time. (Renewed laughter.) Twenty-four hours after that it was a sort of raining buttons on the Atlantic seaboard. A man cannot have disease like that and be entirely cheerful during the rest of his life. (Laughter.) These things grieve me, but don't let them make you sad. -(Laughter.)-Our Fourth of July which we love so much, is an English institution, not an American one, for the declaration of independence was written by an English subject. Every name signed on it was the name of a British subject, and there was not an American in America except the Indians, out on the plains. Americane did not begin until zeven years later. We have one Fourth of July which is absolutely our own, and that is the proclamation issued forty years ago by Abraham Lincoln. (Cheers.) Lest we forget, let us always call to mind that we own these things to England. And let us be able to say to Old England—the grey-baired, vonerable old mother of ours you gave us our Fourth of July and you gave us our decleration of independence, which is the charter of our rights. You, the venerable mother of liberties, the protector of Anglo-Saxon freedom-you gave us these things. and we do mo t currestly thank you for them.

CIVILIZATION'S DEGENERATES.

"The average mental capacity of Englishmen is on the wane," Sir James Barr, president of the Liverpool University, declared in his presidential address at the Public Health Congrees at Douglass, Isle of Man, last month. TEDERLANDSCH-INDISCHE policies, all risks, has been taken at £800,000 each, and the amounts of the total loss and (NETHERLANDS INDIA COMMERCIAL BANK excess policies were originally £400,000 each, but have now, I understand, been increased to half a million each.

C MMONWEALTH MAILS. The delay in the execution of the Commonwealth mail contract has had its inevitable Fl. 2,112,570.36 (£176,048). ending. It is twelve months and more since the tender of the Laing syndicate was accepted, and not a single ship is haid down. Consequently Mr. Deakin's Government has formally cancelled the contract, the syndicate having declined to give a further boud for £25,000 unconditionally. The Commonwealth Government has entered into an arrangement with the Orient and Royal Mail Companies to carry on the mail service for a year after the expiry of their present contract on Jan. 3) next, and fresh tenders are to be immediately called for. It has been publicly stated that Messra. Harland and Wolff had made a previsional arrangement with the Commonwealth Government, in the event of the failure of the availiente to carry out their confract. The Belfast shipbuilders denied truth of the state. ment, which the decision to call for fresh tenders shows to have been unfounded. Messra Harland and Wolff are building . boat for the Royal Mail Company, which will be aut, loyed in the interim mail service. She will be named the Asturias.

THE H A. L. MAMMOTH. Of the levisthan steamer which Messre. Harland and Wolff are to build for the Hamburg-American Company, few details have vet transpired. But the statement that will be of "nearly 50,000 may be regarded as exaggerated. The dimensions of the roat, as foreshadowed, do not tally with anything like such huge dimensions. Besides, if the object is to go one better than the 32,500-ten Cunarders, it is not necessary to build a shin of what, even seconding to modern ideas, would be of extravagant size. It is more likely to be found that the new Humburg-American liner will be much nearer 40,0 0 tons than 50,000. She will have a competitor, of course, in the big staimer which Meears. Harland and Wolff are laying down for the White Star Line, so that the Garmans are perhaps precipitate in congratulating themselves on the prospective possession of the biggrat ship in the world. In this respect the Canard Company will have at least two years supremacy. The real interest centres in the question of speed. It has been stated that the owners of the big Hamburg American boat will be satisfied if she can do 184 knots. True it is that the Hamburg-American Company, save for the Deutschland, has been content to let the Norddeutscher-Lloyd run very fast boats, and has contented itself with vessels of more moderate pace. But it would be unwise to assume that Herr Bullin is going to be satisfied with anything like 184 knots. In this connection the working arrangement between Messrs, Harland and Wolff and Messrs. John Brown and Co. b. comes important. Belfast has hitherto been faithful to the reciprocaling engine. Clydebank has built the turbine driven Lusitania as a sample of what it can do. Whether the new Hamburg American liner is built at Belfast or at Clydebank, it may be that she will be a turbine boat, and it she is it will be became her owners want high speed out of SHIPPING RING COMMISSION. Following are the latest mail accounts of the sitting of the Commission, dated up to July 3rd ...

The first witness called was Mr. E. Gran Burls, Director-General of Stores at the India Office. He stated that the India Offic r shipments amounted to about 250,000 tons per annum. These shipments were made by Conference lines when the rates tendered by them were lower than those of their competitors or in case of earlier sailings. Tenders were invited in the open market unless circumstances dictated otherwise, and then negotiations were entered juto without inviting competition. The India Office never concerned itself with the rebate system. The rates obtained were, ou on the whole, lower than those accorded to merchants. Frequent sailings were both desirable and essential, but the stability of rates was by no means desirable from an econ omic point of view; in fact it was doubtful whether it could be assured. It would be perfectly practical for the India Office, rave under exceptional circumstances, to make arrangements for the shipment of all its cargoes by chartering in the open market. The India Office had adopted no definite course, but had accepted tenders of opposition lines when they had been lowest or otherwise cligible. Tenderers were frequently, but by no means always, members of the Ring.
When the Ring was tendering each individual member almost invariably tendered at the same rate. He never shipped from this country by foreign vessels; he could not do so without the express permission of the Secretary of State. Preference was only given to boats in the Ring when they sailed earlier; there was no question as to whether boats were in the Ring or not. He had always found the Ring thoroughly reasonable in their dealings with him. There were, of course, occasional unplessintuesses, but altogether he had no complaint. He did not see what rebates had to do with frequent sailings, and he did not think they assisted at all, but that was rather a question for a shipowner to answer. If there was any attempt to keep rates up the India office would fight by chartering or by detaching a member of the Ring. (Laughter.) He had not been approached by shippers or anyone else to get relates lowered or altered.

Mr. Douglas Owen, who at the request of the Colonial Office went to Johannesburg in 1904 to assist, as an impartial expert, at a conference called by Lord Milner to consider the then relations between the traders and the shipowners, said that in the summer of 1904 he was requested by the Colonial Office to proceed to Johannesburg to assist as an impartial expert at the conference called by Lord Milner, at the instance of the trading communities of South Africa, to consider the relations which then existed between the traders and shipowners. A South African shipping ring was in operation, and certain of the merchants had long been complaining bitterly, of its methods and oppressions. The complaints were that the rates of freight were inequitable and oppressive; that the shipowners secretly granted unfair concessions to certain large companies to the prejudice of other traders; that the shipowners carried goods from America to THE Business of the above Bank is South Africa at lower rates than from England conducted by the HONGKONG AND | to South Africa; that the German lines belonging to the ring carried goods from Germany at lower rates than British lines in INTEREST on deposits is allowed at 31 the ring would carry similar goods from England to South Africa; and that the shipowners had used their privileged position as an instrument of oppression against shippers who had shipped goods by competing lines. The most serious of the complaints was the one as to the unfair preference to American shippers, and the complaint was well founded.

If the rates charged on the goods from England

dere on their merits reasonable, it was not evident in what way the consumers were injured

by a system which enabled them to buy American munufactures cheaper than English. The system was highly prejudicial to British manufacturers, but that did not hurt the South African consumers, as such. The shipowners were only able to plead that it was forced upon them by a freight war; that they themselves were heavy losers by it; and that it was only a temporary occurrence. In the opinion of the witness, the explanation was correct and bona fide. With reference to the complaint that German gords were brought in German steamers belonging to the ring at much lower rates than English goods were brought in British steamers, he said that British shipowners, whilst in sympathy with complaint, were poverless to remedy it. The history of the complaint, he believed, was that the German lines, on agreeing to join the ring, retained for themselves the option to calculate the tariff or schedule rates of freight either the ton measurement or the ton weight. The advantages of the ring system were settled or stable rates of freight; regular sailings to and from South Africa; alternative ports of shipment and of discharge: steamers of high-class speed; and disclaimer of shipowners' rights to trade. With regard to the American competition, they were told that the lower freight charged to the American manufacturer was driving British trade out of the colony, but British manufacturer worth his salt. would not be driven away from his market by any such weans. He would sacrifice five per cent. of his profit in order to hold his ground. Perhaps. tia larger part of that favoured American trade was in goods which were not shipped from England at all, His own opinion was that the loss really suffered by the manufacturers was by . o means as heavy as individual instances might lead them to suppose. As the charge against the shipowners that in their own selfish interests they lightly and unpatriotically sacrificed the interests of British manufacturers was very grave and injurious charge, the shipowners had now an opportunity to relieve themselves of it. Let them declare that in the event of a freight war rendering it necessary for them, in their own interests, to carry \merican goods at lower rates than British goods, they would share with the British manniscturers injured any extra discount specially granted by the manufacturers in order to neutralize the saving in freight accorded to the Americans. This would be evidence of a desire on the part of the ring not to disregard utterly the rights and well-being of British manufacturers, and would also be a security that he ring would do their atmost to avoid a freight war which would visit them with a share of the loss forced upon the manufacturers. Traders and shipowners might well be left to settle their lifferences in South Africa as similar differences had been settled elsewhere. Under present conditions, the traders wanted personally the advantages which the ring gave them, and wanted the Government to protect them against the disadvantages inevitable to the system. I they were all to agree, the system could be rendered impossible.

In reply to questions by the Chairman, the witness said that if the agreement between the shipper and the shipowner was never ending, and there was no other way in which the shipper could terminate the agreement unless he made the sacrifice of some considerable rebates, theu the Government ought to protect him.
